

ELENA YIANNI

THEATRE + FILM DIRECTOR | FOUNDER OF AMDA (ARTISTS' MOVEMENT FOR DEVELOPING ARTISTRY)

Elena Yianni is a London-based Greek Cypriot Theatre and Film Director working with bold new writing and overlooked stories by and about underrepresented voices, particularly those connected to communities like her own. She is drawn to stories about people - their identity, culture, politics and the realities of life today - often seeking out narratives that carry a thread of hope. Her practice is grounded in care, curiosity and collaboration, and she is deeply interested in the relationship between music and storytelling.

She is also the Founder of AMDA (Artists' Movement for Developing Artistry), a multidisciplinary company dedicated to nurturing artists aged 13-30.
